SECRET EXCISE

This well-educated Ambassador is gravely worried over the Berlin situation, and chiefly that the American determination to resist further encroachment on our rights in Berlin by force, if necessary, may not seem credible to the Soviets.

He said he has known Bourguiba for a long time and could not fathom the reasons for the recent Tunisian policy over Bizerte. His country [redacted] reluctantly voted in favor of what he called the meaningless Afro-Asian resolution in the UN. He said this was only done because of pressure brought to bear upon Senegal in the interest of Afro-Asian solidarity.

I sent two telegrams this afternoon.
